

Uninstructed Delegates

On your ballot, you will also have the option of checking the box for an Uninstructed Delegate. Voting for an uninstructed delegate means you are telling Wisconsin's delegation at the Democratic and Republican conventions that they can make the decision.

Your vote is a way of telling the delegation, whose vote goes directly toward the nomination, who they should vote for. A vote for an uninstructed delegate is your way of saying you are not committed to any single candidate, but are looking to support the choice of Wisconsin's delegates, who are influenced by the rest of the state's popular vote.
